Big Naval Battle—Eleven German War Vessels Sunk by British Cruisers—900 German's Perish—British Casualties were 69 Killed and Wounded—British Ships All Safe and Little Damaged

FROM THE ADVERTISER'S BULLETIN SERVICE

(COURTESY OF THE NEWS-TELEGRAM)

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 30. Wednesday, Aug. 26th, 2.30 p.m.
Paris—Undisturbed by the reverse of yesterday, and having re-arranged their formations, the allies have resumed their advanced position and are on the offensive against the German line. The strength of the allies is being concentrated on the Meuse River.

Antwerp—Brass Whitlock, U. S. ambassador to Belgium, protests against the shelling of the city by German airplanes. King Albert moves from the palace fearing attack. Germans moving to invest Antwerp.

Paris—Continued Russian successes are being reported. The Germans have been driven out of a large portion of East Prussia.

Paris—French commander has decided upon evacuating occupied territory in south and concentration of troops for a decisive campaign on the Meurthe.

Ottawa—The developing of a military spirit in Canada is sweeping the war department off its feet in preparing for the second contingent. Men mounted troop trains everywhere along line and could not be put off.

London—Kitchener in House of Lords says British maintained best traditions of the past in the fight with a superior force lasting 36 hours. Only a small part of Britain's resources has as yet been called upon. Germany has practically reached the limit of her resource in men and equipment.

Paris—The surrender of the forts at Namur remains as much a mystery as at first.

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 31. Wednesday, Aug. 26th, 7.30 p.m.
London—Russian army pushing toward fortress of Posen. This believed to account for the Germans falling back in Eastern Prussia.

Seattle—Ten lives were lost when a passenger steamer was rammed and sunk by the C. P. R. steamer, Princess Victoria, 20 miles north of this city, to-day.

The Advertiser's Bulletin, No. 33. Friday, Aug. 28th, 2 p.m.

London—Dispatches to the Times indicate that the allies are strengthening their lines between the Scheldt and Cambrai. Active defence of Lille, in northern France, has been abandoned temporarily. Large force of British marines has been landed at Ostend. These may attack German right wing in the rear. At least this force will attempt to hold the Belgian coast, Ostend, which is but 60 miles from the shores of England, until reinforcements can be brought to their aid. It is feared that the Germans may attempt to establish a base at Ostend. The nature of the German rapid dash on France has left their lines of communication very weak. The disposition of the forces of the allies seems satisfactory to the war office and very menacing to the foe. German successes at Longwy and at Lille do not interfere with the general disposition of the allied forces. In Southern Alsace, the withdrawal of French troops has not made it any easier for a German invasion of France at the passes of the Vosges Mts., nor at Nancy or Toul. With the allied forces in France and Belgium as the anvil, the Russian hammer is descending upon the German from the East. The war office views the situation with confidence.

Premier Asquith says Sir John French reports British troops on Wednesday were exposed to attacks of five German army corps near Cambrai Casualties were heavy but exact extent not known yet.

The Advertiser's Bulletin No. 34. Friday, August, 28th, 10.30 p.m.

London—It is announced that the British fleet sank two German cruisers and two German torpedo boats off Heligoland. A third cruiser was set afire and left sinking. It is said no British ships were lost and the British loss of life was not great.

Vancouver—Private Backus, of the Calgary regiment, was found in field hospital with throatcut, he having used his own razor in fit of despondency.

London—A despatch via Brindisi, Italy, says British destroyers sank Austrian off Corfu.

London—Lord Kitchener announced that British troops are being hurried from India to re-inforce allies.

Situation is regarded as very critical in France. Allies forced back at some points.

French second line of defence in danger. German turning movement may have been successful.

The Advertiser's Bulletin, No. 35. Saturday, August, 29th, 3.30 p.m.

London—News of the naval battle off Eastbourne, coupled with reports from Paris that the British troops had stood immovable as a stone wall before the German onslaught on the Belgian frontier, aroused great enthusiasm in London.

London—The Express says it is informed that Italy will present an ultimatum to Austria.

The Advertiser's Bulletin, No. 32. Thursday, Aug. 27th, 3 p.m.

London—Unconfirmed reports say Russian forces invested Koenigsburg, in Galicia. The Russians have moved forward rapidly and are near Leuburg.

Montreal—Princess Patricia Regiment, 1000 strong, is the first Canadian troop to leave for Europe. It sailed to-day on the Megantic for a secret destination.

Paris—German army reported near Amiens, half-way from the frontier to Paris. The French right wing engages them in an artillery duel along the Meurthe River.

The Advertiser's Bulletin, No. 36. Saturday, August, 29th, 8.15 p.m.

Paris—French war office gave out as an official statement that the Russians had completely invested Koenigsburg and occupied Allenstein in East Prussia. The Germans continue to recoil at Russian advance.

A Good Investment

There was a time when the farmer and the poultry raiser sneered at book knowledge but times have changed. As a factor in attaining success to-day is recognized the necessity of taking one or more publications which specialize in the particular branch in which the farmer or other may be interested. To give our poultry fanciers and breeders in this district an opportunity to secure an introduction to the best poultry journal published in Canada, The Advertiser is making this offer to take effect at once. It will give a subscription for one year to either The Claresholm or The Stavelly Advertiser and also a subscription to The Canadian Poultry Review, "The People's Popular Peerless Poultry Paper," for one year for $1.50, paid in advance, which is exactly the price of one year's subscription to The Advertiser alone. As the Canadian Poultry Review is the best of its class, so The Claresholm Advertiser or The Stavelly Advertiser has proved itself in the district, a newsy newspaper. The same offer will hold good to those who are in arrears to the Advertiser. Pay up and get this splendid poultry paper for nothing.

Feed Shortage

In a communication from W. F. Stevens, the provincial livestock commissioner, a list was given of farmers who wish to purchase or winter live-stock. The list was prepared primarily for the information of any farmer or rancher in Southern Alberta who wishes to face, if he does not already, the feed shortage. In the list are the names of farmers who are open to pay, take on shares or sell pasturage for horses, sheep or cattle. Through the kindness of Mr. Moffatt, M. P., for this constituency, this announcement is made and if any are desirous of obtaining the names and addresses, he will be pleased to put these in touch with the northern farmers. While this district is not suffering so severely as some of the more southerly sections, there may be some who would like to take advantage of the feed surplus in the north.

Lockwood-Durning

Married at High River by the Rev. Father Beausoleil, Elva Mary Elizabeth Lockwood of Claresholm to Clement Durning formerly operator at the depot here but now station agent at Kananaskis.

Mr. Durning is a native of the Maritime Provinces coming to the west to work for the C. P. R. where he has made good being a very young man to hold the position and responsibility of agent. Miss Lockwood who has lived here for many years is a well known and popular young lady.

Mrs. Martin Arnstaud is seriously ill and a Nurse from Calgary is in attendance, at time of writing she shows a slight improvement.

Mr. John Allan shipped in a carload of kindling last week. This will be for sale and he will endeavour to supply the demands from time to time.

Church of England services will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon next at 3 p.m. The Rev. H. M. Henderson will officiate. Everybody is welcome.

At a meeting of the Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform League, branch for Nanton constituency, held in Parkland on Tuesday last, final arrangements for the circulation of the petition for a Provincial Prohibitory Liquor Act were made. Rev. J. M. Fawcett was elected president of the branch and Mr. C. H. Marshall, of Nanton, Secretary. A splendid response is being made and there will likely be at least 80 per cent in this constituency.

War Causes Convention to be Postponed

Owing to the war now being waged in Europe and the unsettled state of affairs generally, the executive committee of the Alberta and Eastern British Columbia Section of the Canadian Press Association has decided to postpone indefinitely the convention which was to have been held at Vernon, B.C., on Sept. 24.

The war is responsible for the postponing of other conventions in the west besides the "A. B. C." Press Association. The 11th annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Western Canada which was to have been held on Sept. 8-10 at Fort William has been postponed at least a month and the 19th Dominion convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew which was to have been held at Winnipeg on Sept. 24-27 is indefinitely postponed.

Should Cultivate Land After Harvest

It has been stated that the loss of moisture from stubble fields left bare after harvest is each month equal to five inches of rainfall so long as there is moisture left to evaporate. This is a loss capable of producing several bushels of grain. Plowed ground left bare, neither harrowed nor packed well, in hot, windy weather, lose in 21 hours sufficient moisture to equal 1 inch of rainfall. To avoid a tremendous loss from just such sources as these the Western farmers, who are vitally interested in the saving of moisture for the future crop, should cultivate the land directly after harvest. The amount of cultivation which it is possible to give will depend on time and local conditions. Start in the fall to save moisture for the next crop. It pays in direct returns.

Hear Mrs. Unruh

A rare treat is in store for the people of Claresholm. Mrs. Unruh of Portland, Ore., will address a mass meeting in the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon Sept. 6 at 3 o'clock and will occupy the pulpit in the Presbyterian church in the evening. Mrs. Unruh is a woman of wide experience and more than average platform ability. The "Enquirer" Columbus, Ohio, says: "Mrs. Ad Wallace Unruh is a graceful, eloquent, convincing speaker. Her logic is electric, her rhetoric picturesque and vivid, her style nervous, forcible, forceful. There are flashes of wit, delicate bits of humor, sharp thrusts of sarcasm, catchy figures and illustrations that illustrate. It is no dry stereotyped lecture on temperance, but a discussion with live personality behind it, when one hears her."

Use The Advertiser's Hammer

To Pound in Your Name, Location, Business

There is only one way to advertise, and that is to hammer your name, your location and your business so perfectly into people's heads that if they walk in their sleep they will constantly turn their steps towards your store. The newspaper is your friend in spite of criticism. It helps build up the community that supports you. When the day comes that the newspapers are dead, the people are on the edge of grave the with nobody to write the epitaph.

New Game Bird

There is some kind of gamebird which has made its appearance in the district which as yet has not been identified by those who have seen the flocks. If this bird is the Hungarian partridge, the game law provides that not more than five may be taken by one person in a day and not more than twenty-five in the season. The open season is the same as for grouse, partridge, ptarmigan, pheasant and prairie chicken, viz., October 1st to December 1st. If this bird is the Hungarian pheasant it is protected until 1920 and English pheasants are protected all the year round.

British Heroism

For two or three grueling hours, a British force of 700 stood up against a German cavalry force of 5,000 men at Tourmal last Wednesday hourly expecting relief which never came. The gallant band stood its ground until all hope was lost and only 300 remained. Then they retired, calmly and coolly carrying their wounded and nursing their pursuers all the way. Survivors of this gallant stand insist that the British held the position until the Germans turned the tide of battle by mounting quick-firing guns in Red Cross ambulances. At Cambrai, the British force which was entrusted the road from Lille to Cambrai, being without artillery or machine guns, fought for three hours desperately against a highly trained and splendidly equipped division of cavalry supported by a battalion of infantry with artillery and machine guns. They were compelled to fall back upon Arras but not until their ranks had been sadly decimated. They executed a skilful retreat taking full of the enemy with every new position.

Are You a Subscriber

To Professional Men

Your profession calls for a keen analytical brain and the ability to express facts in a logical and convincing manner. Are you satisfied with your present abilities in this line? Would you not like to improve them, even if only a trifle? Of course, you would. Well then join our happy family of contestants in the Summer Pastime. Try it just once. Our word for it you'll find its brain-exercising power of even more importance than the possibilities of the prizes themselves.

What is His Name?

Why, you've got a little pucker between your pretty straight brows. What do you care if you don't know much about players of baseball, football, hockey and so forth? It's the easiest thing in the world to learn and we're here to help you.

Sit down with your pencil in hand and look at the picture. Search out every little point in which the artist, clever fellow that he is, may have poked away the baseball man's name. It's in the picture somewhere and you can find it if you look.

Well, if you're going to frown that way, and whack the enamel off from your pretty white teeth with your pencil, why don't you run upstairs and get the little book you bought when starting the contest?

Now then work, and don't worry. As surely as the sun follows the moon, so will this afternoon's picture follow in well-solved sequence, yesterday's.

Bless my stars! I know you'd do it! Run up stairs this minute and put it with the others so you won't mislay it.

Think of the pleasure in working for such grand rewards as are offered, and remember that you are just as eligible to win as any other person. Aunt Molly.

Wasting Men in Peace

Much is being said in these turbulent days of the unparliamentary waste of men of skill and talent on the battlefields of Europe. Press writers and platform orators are denouncing the reckless expenditure of the choicest material of the Old World in the cruel game of war. And well they may! It is a theme that is deserving of all the eloquence of a Beecher or a Wendell Phillips. Yet in the midst of our righteous indignation at this step backward let us humbly remind ourselves that there is going on constantly in our own country a waste of men as stupendous as that of war, the waste resulting from the liquor traffic and the drink evil. Every year the professions, the business world, the scientific and the literary world are impoverished because John Barleycorn has claimed as his victims men who ought to be occupying high positions in these circles. In a recent issue of The Empire, the paper published by the prisoners of the Eastern Pennsylvania penitentiary, appears the following statement:

"There is an architect serving a term in the house of correction in this city who has been offered a bonus of $5,000 and a salary of $100 a week if he will control himself and do without drink. He is said to be a man with remarkable construction ideas, and when sober his services are worth full $10,000 a year to any firm of builders or architects."

"We have in this institution a man who has received an offer of $75 per week if he will, on discharge, give a bond to control his appetite for liquor for a period of three years."

"We have others who, in stead of being in jail, would easily be earning from $25 to $40 per week if they could but make up their minds to serve themselves and families in stead of the saloonkeeper."

Can we as a nation afford to tolerate such waste of human skill? If not, how can we prevent it? With agony of mind and soul these problems are being studied and pondered by Christian men and women. The one satisfactory solution is the removal of the temptation by National Constitutional prohibition of the traffic which provides the temptation. That will be a "safety first" measure national in scope.

Distribution of Rams and Boars

As the distribution of pure bred stallions and bulls, 125 and 414 of which respectively have been located in different parts of the Dominion, has now been completed for the current year, it has been announced that the Live Stock Branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture will undertake a further distribution of pure-bred rams and boars during the months of August, September and October next, to associations of farmers organized in districts in which the service of satisfactory breeding animals in these classes are not already available. Applications for rams and boars, a large number of which have already been received, should be made at an early date, as it will not be possible to consider those that are not made prior to October 1st. Farmers desiring to secure the services of such stock should arrange to organize an association in their district and forward their application to the Live Stock Commissioner, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, from whom applications blank and all information with respect to the conditions under which pure bred sires are distributed, may be obtained. It is understood that all applications shall be reported upon by officers of the Live Stock Branch and that favorable action as regards any application shall be subject to the approval and recommendation of the Live Stock Commissioner. Letters addressed to the Department do not require postage.

A Fun Philosopher

Dear old Josh Billings wrote a thousand and one epigrams in his delightful phonetically spelled way but he never wrote a truer one than: "If yer aint got nuthin to dew, dew it at once; that iz the way to git bazy." The value, of course, lies in the application, and so we commenced our Summer Pastime as an apt illustration. Many of our readers may have idle moments without anything to interest or amuse them. Well, join the merry Pastimers. The working out of the picture puzzles may not seem specially inviting or attractive to you at first sight, but never underrate it out and you will soon become enthusiastic. Do the one in today's issue anyhow. Get started on it and see how it opens up new vistas of both pleasure and profit that you did not even imagine. Take our word for it, you'll like the sample and want more of the goods. It doesn't cost anything to try, either.

German-Canadians Must Keep Quite

Theodore Schmidt, of Regina, president of the German-Canadian provincial alliance, has written a message to the anti-Canadians in Saskatchewan calling upon them to avoid all causes of friction in order that the Canadian government may not suffer embarrassment during the continuance of the war. "All German men will agree with me," he says, "that it is almost unbelievable that two nations so closely related as Great Britain and Germany should be at war with one another. I think they will also agree that we should pray to God who guides all things that he may bring a speedy end to the animosity which exists between the two greatest states in the world. Bitter indeed it is for us who love our new home, to see this war, for our hearts still continue to cling to our old home land, where our cradles stand. But this country is our adopted home and there can be no doubt that all our German friends sincerely wish the best for Canada."
